SAN MATEO COUNTY TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL MEET AT BURLINGAME

Present Day Institute Shows Marked Contrast to Those of Former Years; Interesting Program Arranged; Association Elects Officers

By W. J. SAVAGE

Again the months have gone by and the Teachers' Institute of this county was opened in the High School auditorium at Burlingame last Monday morning at 9:30, with an excellent program of music, the offering of the high school orchestra with Elmer Young directing and so fine it was that everyone present was moved to give unstinted applause.

All the teachers from the kindergartens, the primary and the grammar schools, the high schools and the junior college were present, except a very few, who had been excused by the board of education on account of illness.

The number was so great that the auditorium was filled completely and, without exception, they seemed to be earnest, intelligent men and women, well fitted to be the molders and leaders of the rising generation.

The people's generosity in having awarded them encouraging compensation was evidenced in their faultless attire. The outlandish dress of the "school marm" and the absurd coat of the "school master" have disappeared forever, to be recalled for amusement, only, in story-books and moving pictures.

However, it may not be amiss to revert to the writer's first teachers' institute, held in the fall of 1886 by way of contrast to the present one.

It took place in the old Congregational church at Redwood City. G. P. Hartley was school superintendent and presided over fewer than sixty teachers, from primary and grammar schools. There were no others in the county, then.

Ira B. Hoitt, state superintendent, was present for, as the writer walked along the wooden side walk with him, from the church on the way to lunch, the brilliant H. C. Hall of Menlo Park remarked most approporately: "There go the head and tail of the school department of the state of California."

The earnestness of those early teachers was fully as great as that of those of the present day and they considered themselves, as they should, actual leaders of their respective communities, but they did not appear like those of today, because $50 was considered enough for a beginner and $100 a month was the zenith of their financial ambition.

The institute continued three full days at the church and for many of the teachers it was a post graduate course in education. One thing that institute of early days taught with never forgotten examples was "make no promise or threat to your pupils that you can not maintain in the minutest detail, if you wish to be respected and obeyed by them." That is just as true now as it was then. Another idea of that instit-

Funeral Today For Menlo Man

James Bogie, well-known resident of Menlo Park, and for many years gardiner on the Stanford university campus, died late Tuesday night at his home on Oak Grove avenue. He had been ill for some time.

Bogie was a native of Scotland, and had been making his home in Menlo Park for the past 25 years. He was a noted horticulturalist and an authority on flowers. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Bogie and by four half-brothers, two of whom are in Pittsburg, and two in Scotland.

Funeral services will take place this afternoon from his late residence in Menlo Park, and will be conducted by the Rev. W. L. Bone. Interment will be in Cypress Lawn cemetery at Lawndale.

Exchange Club Hears Of Holy Land Trael

The Redwood City Exchange club enjoyed a talk on the Holy Land by the Rev. Charles Gatchell, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, at the club's regular weekly meeting Tuesday. The chairman of this meeting was Carroll Hall, a former president of the Exchange Club.

A special program of music was presented by Ford Shepard, Clif Woodhams, Ralph Stubbe, and Aubrey Thompson, four boys from the Sequoia Union High School. Tom Kane, manager of the Sequoia Theatre, also sang a solo. Kane was present to report on the Christmas party to be held jointly by the Sequoia Theatre and the Exchange Club for the benefit of the children of the community. A short talk was given by Harold McGee, a member of the Exchange Club.

Exchange Club's Christmas Party Gift to Children

All in Readiness for Program At Sequoia Theatre On Monday

Every detail is now in readiness for the Exchange Club-Sequoia Theatre Christmas party for the children of the community. Plans for the big annual Christmas event have been made by a committee consisting of Ed Scott, chairman, Harold McGee, James Hearne, Albert Davies and Lindsey Gray. Manager Tom Kane of the Sequoia Theatre is co-operating by securing a program of interest to the children.

Kane has secured three headliners for the program. They are a Rin Tin Tin picture, an Our Gang comedy and a Mickey Mouse cartoon. The members of the Exchange Club will see that each child is taken care of and given a little gift.

The Christmas party is given annually by the service club, and will take place this year on December 22. The committee will furnish transportation to any crippled children who would be unable to attend otherwise.

Menlo Masons to Install Officers

Menlo Park Lodge, No. 651 F. & A. M. will hold its annual installation of officers tomorrow evening in the Masonic temple at Menlo Park. The retiring master, Victor Louis Hugo will act as installing officer, and Jay T. Cooper, P. M., will be master of ceremonies.

The officers to be installed for the coming year will be:

Worshipful master, Tillman Bryan Hunnell; senior warden, John Ross Hardy; junior warden, Reginald Milward; treasurer, Kenneth Laxton Martin; secretary, Joseph Veverka; chaplain, Samuel Lockerbie; senior deacon, Clarence Earl Sebring; junior deacon, Gerald John Owens; marshal, Victor Louis Hugo; senior steward, Clyde Arthur Howard; junior steward, Walter Rudolph Johnson; tyler, William Finley Baillie.

Survey Ordered For Deepening of Redwood Harbor

In a telegram to Mayor Daniel R. Stafford and Howard I. Wood, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, Congressman Arthur M. Free advised that the rivers and harbors committee has passed the authorization for the army engineers to make a resurvey of Redwood City harbor. The matter is to be referred to the district engineer in San Francisco for further action, the wire further stated.

The new survey would call for the dredging of the harbor 30 feet deep and 300 feet in width from the entrance to the bay to the municipal wharf, the original survey calling only for dredging to the Pacific Portland Cement Company's plant.

S. F. Policeman Killed in Crash On R.R. Crossing

Car Crashes Gate; Strikes Fast Freight Train at San Mateo

William Fogarty, 725 Thirty Third avenue, San Francisco, a member of the San Francisco police department, was instantly killed early yesterday morning when his car crashed into a speeding freight train at Third avenue in San Mateo.

The accident occured shortly before 3 o'clock, when a northbound freight was approaching the crossing at a speed of about 45 miles per hour. The gates were down on the crossing, but the San Francisco officer evidently failed to see the gates or the approaching train. He crashed through the gate and struck the side of the locomotive.

As the car crumpled against the heavy machine, it was hurled along the track a distance of 100 yards, and thrown aside a mass of tangled wreckage. Fogarty's body was thrown from the car a short distance of where the crushed machine came to a stop. He was dead when he was picked up.

Joseph Lesyok, crossing gateman, saw the approaching car and was sounding the warning bell, but the car continued apparently without slackening speed. The only witness to the tragedy was Alexander McGovern, of San Jose, who was driving along Third avenue behind Fogarty. Fogarty had driven south from San Francisco along the Bayshore road, and was approaching El Camino Real on Third avenue.

Yomecan Club Host to Boys

Twenty-one boys from Five Points were guests at the First Annual Big Brother Christmas Party of the Yomecan Club at the Sequoia Hotel on Wednesday evening. The program which was under the direction of president Ed Greeley and chairman Lawrence Drivon was chuck full of fun from the start to the finish.

Between the courses of the dinner Christmas carols were sung under the direction of Norbert Lambert and Walter Kellogg, Jr. Each boy introduced himself and the Yomecan big brother who sat next to him. A number of the boys of the group were members of the Algonquin Friendly Indian championship football team which both last year and this year went through the season without losing in competition with younger boys' clubs all the way from South San Francisco to Palo Alto. Bob Letts, yell leader for the Yomecans, led the club in a "big six" for the team. After this one of the boys gave an impromptu harmonica solo and one of the smallest of the boys acting as yell leader led the boys in a yell for the Yomecan Club. Roy A. Hohberger, the local secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, directed in a series of games and competition in which the Yomecans competed against the boys. Presents were then distributed to each boy and the attendance prize which was a beautifully recorated Christmas tree was drawn for the boys. After the salute to the flag the meeting was adjourned.

The boys whe were present were Frank Roma, Joe Garcia, Tony Boicelli, Frank Love, Johnnie Montoro, Willie Silva, Albert Norton, Michael Garcia, Joe Ribera, Raymond Montoro, Manuel Rondon, Joe Merantes, Caesar Gomez, Manuel Ribera, Charles Boicelli, Frank Ramos, Siliro Boicelli, Daniel Silva, Salvador Marques, Salvador Rodriguez, Modesto Garcia.

K. of C. To Hold Christmas Party

San Mateo Council No. 1346 Knights of Columbus of San Mateo will hold a Christmas tree party for members of the council and their families tomorrow evening commencing at 8 o'clock. The entertainment will consist of several vocal and musical numbers, Tjader's troupe of dancers, and the Columbian Boys' Club. After the program Santa Claus will present gifts to the children.

THIRD MEETING HELD BY COMMITTEE TO AID COUNTY UNEMPLOYMENT

Cities Urged to Hasten Start on Contemplated Improvements In Order to Furnish Work During Winter Months; 408 Unemployed Now Registered

At the third meeting of the San Mateo county committee on relief of the unemployed, consisting of the various mayors of the county and the members of the board of supervisors, held Wednesday in the court house, a special committee of mayors was appointed to confer with the supervisors to discuss plans for providing immediate ways and means to aid those in distress. This committee named by Major C. A. Buck of Burlingame, acting in the absence of Chairman M. A. Harris of Atherton, and consisting of Mayor Daniel R. Stafford, Redwood City, chairman; Mayor Joseph Quinlan, South San Francisco; Mayor Harry Weeden, Menlo Park; Mayor Harris, Atherton; and Mayor Buck of Burlingame, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The appointment of the special committee of mayors folowed a suggestion of Mayor Buck that the board appropriate $2,000 from each of the five road funds to aid in the relief work, in the various cities. In the discussion Supervisor Hickey of South San Francisco reported that he has a $17,000 road contract underway in his district and is about to let another job that will call for an expediture of about $10,000. Supervisor John W. Poole of the Third township, stated that his claims for road work last month amounted to approximately $8,000, and that he has some 17 men employed, having just hired four additional men during the week. Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown of the Second township, said she was speeding up the work in her district, giving employment wherever possible with preference to the married men.

Roscoe Wyatt, secretary of the committee, reported at the meeting Wednesday that the total number of persons registered for work in the county on Tuesday was 408, distributed as follows in the various communities: Menlo Park, 35; Redwood City, 103; San Carlos, 2; Belmont, 5; San Mateo, 68; Burlingame, 60; San Bruno, 28; and South San Francisco, 129; and the North Palo Alto district, 15.

It was brought out in the discussion which followed that many men in the county, especially those in the building trades line, who are out of work but who have not registered.

Paul W. Wood, who has been active on the unemployment relief committee in San Francisco, addressed the local committee and told of the plan carried on in San Francisco during the past three months to aid those out of work, especially the young home buyers, whose condition was found particularly serious. This is the real problem, said Mr. Wood. He suggested the immediate appointment of a committee of three from each community, consisting of the mayor, a clergyman and a newspaper man. The work of this committee would be to determine the number of home owners out of employment and in need of funds, and where the loss of the home is threatened to seek to co-operation of banks, building and loan associations and real estate firms in getting an extension of time on monthly payments until employment is found for the owners. The plan of securing temporary work for these people, as carried out by the committee in San Francisco, was explained by Mr. Wood. The suggestions of the speakers will be considered by the special committee at its meeting tomorow afternoon.

George Merrill, president of the Burlingame-San Mateo Lions Club, headed a delegation of four at the meeting and offered four definite suggestions to aid the committee in its work.

"First—That your committee, as the county head of this relief movement, call into conference leaders of county industrial and commercial enterprises to get their views on possible solutions, and their pledge of co-operation, so essential to the success of this endeavor.

Urge Immediate Plan

"Second—That your committee, after hearing from these leaders their views and suggestions, formulate and put into immediate execution a definite plan of providing employment for those of our residents now jobless and in need.

"Third—That each city move forward for immediate launching whatever projects have been contemplated for the year, insofar as this is possible. That each city, through its governing body, create whatever legitimate work it can, even though it is necessary to draw on reserve and emergency funds.

"Fourth—That the board of supervisors do likewise.

"Fifth—That every service organization in the county be called upon to aid in whatever way the committee deems best."

A resolution was adopted at the meeting calling upon the State Highway Commission to refrain from awarding contracts for highway construction unless American citizens are employed in the work. Attention was called to the fact that Mexican labor is being used at the present time in the completion of the Bayshore highway, near South San Francisco. It was also urged in the resolution that in the highway construction preference be given to residents in the locality, where the work is being done.

Mayor Stafford of Redwood City stressed the importance of the people trading at home and favoring the local merchants in their own communities.

Supervisor Hickey reported that he had received a letter from Architect W. H. Toepke in which he informed him that fifty per cent of the men employed on the new wing of the San Mateo county community hospital at Beresford are local residents. Supervisor Hickey also reported that he had been promised by the plastering contractor at the hospital that he would hire all local county men in this work.

Dr. C. V. Thompson, chairman of the board of supervisors, stated that there is plenty of money in the Social Service fund to provide relief for the needy and that there is no occasion for anybody to go hungry. In this connection Supervisor Hickey called attention to the policy of the board of the social service commission not to make public the names of any person securing relief through the channels of the commission.

De Molay Council Planning Smoker

Redwood City Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold its first annual smoker in the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening, starting at 7:45 o'clock. The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Walter Kellogg, Jr., master councilor.

Included in the program for the evening will be Merlyn Stokes, well-known local boy, who is now singing at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. There will also be talent from San Jose. The program will also include several boxing bouts and moving pictures.

There will be no regular meeting this night.

Basketball Team

The DeMolays are organizing a basketball team. The lineup will include former Sequoia High School stars. A schedule of games is now being arranged.

The chapter is also planning a card party during the end of January.

Theatre To Give Toys To Children

Carrying out the annual policy of the Fox Theatres throughout the United States, the Sequoia Theatre in this city will present every boy and girl who attends the performance on next Saturday and Sunday, both matinee and evening, with a toy. Santa Claus will be at the theatre in person and make sure that no child is overlooked.

Two splendid talking pictures are on the program for these two days. On Saturday William Haynes will be seen in "Remote Control" and on Sunday, Janette McDonald will be starred in "Monte Carlo."

OLD SHOW-WOMAN DEAD

LONDON, (UP) — The oldest show-woman in the London area, Mrs. Eliza Searle, is dead.

New Apartment To Be Built On Whipple Avenue

$45,000 Permit Secured For Three Story Building To Start Soon

A permit was issued yesterday by City Building Inspector I. C. Drathman to Bernard J. McCarron for the construction of a 3-story apartment and basement at 141 Whipple avenue, corner of Birch street, in Redwood Highlands. The building will be of frame and reinforced concrete construction and will contain 18 apartments. The cost, according to the permit, will be $45,000. Ground was being broken this morning for the starting of work on the apartment.

OtherPermits

Other permits were issued by Inspector Drathman as follows:

C. W. Higgins, 701 El Camino Real, repair fire damage to store, $400.

Jos. Dickey, 303 Bradford, addition to garage, $75.

Giovanni Cazzersa, 1586 Oxford, residence, $5,000.

Charles Gould, 122 Clinton, reshingling roof, $175.

F. A. Fagalde, 253 Foothill Boulevard, additions to dwelling, $250.

D. Asher, 543 Jeter street, completing dwelling.

Counter Petition Filed in Estate Of H. C. Finkler

Will Contest by Sister Is Followed by Petition for Administration

Following the filing of a contest action to the will of H. C. Finkler by his sister, Miss Christine Finkler, a petition for special letters of administration has been requested in the superior court of this county by B. Grant Taylor and M. J. Purcell, devisees under the will. The sister has applied for special letters of administration. This according to Taylor and Purcell will delay the procedings, and someone should be appointed to look after the estate during the period of probate.

Finkler was a resident of Cordeleras road, west of Redwood City for 30 years, and was clerk of the state supreme court for 52 years. He ended his own life at his home here some weeks ago. Following his death a will was found in which he left his entire estate to two friends, Taylor and Purcell. Is is the contention of the sister that Finkler was not of sound mind at the time of making the will, and that he was under the undue influence of one of the devisees.

Government May Lock Buildings In Liquor Cases

Several property owners of South San Francisco face the prospect of having their buildings locked by orders of the federal government for violation of the national prohibition act.

Following a federal raid Friday in which three arrests were made and a quantity of whiskey, wine and beer were seized, Chief of Police Louis Belloni was notified to make a monthly report to prohibition authorities on the number of dry law violation convictions in South City. A second violation by occupants of any one place will make the property subject to being padlocked for a year, according to federal authorities.

Arrested in last week's raid were John Colombo, 241 Grand avenue; Antone Bildhauser, 248 Grand avenue; and Peter Lind, 217 Grand avenue. All were released on $1000.00 bail.

INQUEST HELD FOR COASTSIDE RANCHER

An inquest was held in Halfmoon Bay Tuesday evening for Fred Campbell, coastside rancher, who was found dead in a ravine on the coastside. The jury decided that Campbell had come to his death by suicide. He had been in ill health for some time, and had left his home several weeks ago threatening to kill himself. He was not found for three weeks.

SKELETON FOUND ON COAST IS SAID TO BE THAT OF WOMAN AGED NEAR 40

Examination of Bones Found on San Gregorio Ranch Leads To Conclusion that Skeleton Was of a Murdered Person; Head and Legs Had Been Cut Off

The mystery which surrounds the human skeleton found last week on a ranch near San Gregorio appeared one step nearer solution following an examination held in Halfmoon Bay by County Coroner J. C. McGovern and Dr. Carlos Morgan, Halfmoon Bay pathologist. Two new clues were brought to light by this examination; that the bones found were those of a woman about 40 years of age, and that the body had been buried for about 12 years.

Another point which may or may not aid in solving the mystery, but which furthers the indications that the skeleton was that of a murdered person, was the fact that before interment, the head as well as a leg had been cut from the body. The bones have the appearance of having been severed with a saw.

The discovery of the fact that the bones are those of a woman has resulted in a study of records of missing women throughout the bay region. It was at first believed that the skeleton might have been that of a one-legged peddler, who disappeared in this county some years ago, but this theory has been overthrown by the close examination of the skeleton.

The skeleton was found last week by workmen on the Krobish ranch near San Gregorio. It was buried face downward only a few inches beneath the surface of the ground. The skull had been crushed in on one side. The bones were in a perfect state of preservation and the teeth were all in place.

The fact that the head had apparently been cut from the body and that one or both legs had been cut off, is thought to indicate that the murder was committed somewhere else than where the body was found, and that the body had been brought to San Gregorio in a box or large suit case.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Europe

Carrol Hall, editor of the Tribune, and a former president of the Redwood City Exchange Club, was the chief speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Redwood City Kiwanis club this week. He talked on a trip which he recently made to Europe, and spoke on Denmark, Switzerland and Belgium.

The sights of Copenhagen were interestingly portrayed as were those of Geneva, Antwerp and Bruges. The talk was listened to with interest by the members of the club. The chairman of the meeting was J. A. Gibson, superintendent of the plant of the Pratt Low Preserving Co. The Christmas fund of the club was materially increased through the presentation of a bank book by the First National Bank.

Girl's Death Held To Be Accidental

The death of Evelyn Anita Molinari, Colma school girl, who was killed when struck by an automobile driven by Melvin P. Agnew of Millbrae, last week, was held accidental by a coroner's jury on Wednesday. The jury summoned by County Coroner J. C. McGovern at the offices of Deputy Coroner Silvio Neri at South San Francisco, decided that the girl's death was accidental. The girl was struck by Agnew's car while on her way to the Jefferson high school.

The driver of the car was not held by the police, although a technical charge of manslaughter was placed against him.

County Teachers Honored at Meet

At a meeting this week of the bay section of the California Teachers' Association held in San Francisco, Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools of San Mateo county, was appointed regional representative of the teachers' council for two years.

At the same session, Miss Louise Watkins, journalism instructor of the Sequoia Union High School, was selected as corresponding secretary of the California High School Journalism Teachers' Association. Roy W. Cloud of this city, former county superintendent of schools, is secretary of the State Teachers' Association.

Successor Named To H. C. Finkler

G. T. Sturtevant, of San Francisco, has been appointed to succeed H. C. Finkler of this city as secretary to the state supreme court. Finkler, who held the position for 52 years was a resident of this city, and ended his own life here recently at his home on Cordleeras road.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE IS BEGUN BY MENLO MAN

Louis Beltramo, of Menlo Park, has began suit for divorce in the superior court of this county against his wife Beulah Beltramo. Beltramo charges his wife with desertion. The couple was married in San Rafael on May 26, 1925, and separated in 1928. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Jas T. O'Keefe.

THE REAL CHRISTMAS

When men die spiritually, when the regard we have for mankind in general shrivels and decays, then and not until then, will there be a cessation of the "Real Christmas Spirit."

The older we grow the more firmly we are convinced of the fact that the real joys in life come not from receiving but from giving, and the remarkable and encouraging feature is that even little children are imbued with the spirit.

It is interesting and inspiring to go to Church and Sunday School at Christmas time. Every year, in most churches, children stage a thank offering service at Christmas time, and unless you have become entirely engrossed in the business of piling up dollars and the sordid things of life, it would give you a clutch at the heart could you see the joy that comes to these little tots as they bring their offerings, a used toy, or mayhap a small bag of potatoes, or a few nuts or a little candy they have purchased with their own saved pennies, and pile them up to be distributed to those who are poor and needy.

Engaged as you and we are in the business of the world, we hesitate many times to give expression to our better feelings, fearing that we may be called sentimental; but right now, calling us what you please, we are going to say to you from the fullness of our heart that we wish you and yours health, happiness, prosperity and the Real Christmas Spirit.

THE AGE OF JUNK

This has been called by those versed in such things, the Iron Age. After a long ride through the country last Sunday, we suggest that it should be the Scrap Iron Age. Along the wide and beautiful highways of the state, the traveler fairly drinks in the landscape, until he finds that the drink has been spoiled by sacks and piles of old tin cans that have been dumped along the highways by people more anxious to get rid of their own trash than imbued with public spirit.

The traveler sees ahead what appears to be a beautiful stream among the trees. Coming closer he finds that it has been a stream, but is now filled with old cans, auto fenders, a gas range or two, and several of the ubiquitious worn out tires.

On the beach—and we have some of the finest beaches in the country, where everything should be beautiful, one finds piles of the ever present tin can. It would appear as though those who go to the beach to spend the day must gather together all their old cans at home, and take them along to leave on the sand.

And speaking of tires—did you ever notice them? They hang along country fences like life preservers along the rail of a ship. Guide posts are decorated with them; and there are very few mountain streams that cannot boast of one or two.

And while we are on the subject of junk, did you ever wonder what becomes of all the Sunday editions, with fifty or more pages of a magazine section, the comics, and all the rest? If you have every driven along the flower dotted highways in the country, you would know. They lodge in fence corners in piles; they gather in bushes and in the grass, in trees along the roads, and lend the scenery an altogether novel appearance like giant snowflakes, but less picturesque.

SENATE ASKS ESTIMATE OF DEPORTABLE ALIENS

A resolution, introduced by Senator Hayden of Arizona, requesting from the Secretary of Labor information concerning the estimated number of deportable aliens in the United States, what additional appropriations are necessary to accomplish their prompt deportation, and what changes in existing laws to facilitate their deportation are necessary, was recently adopted by the Senate.

In discussing the resolution prior to its passage, Senator Hayden declared that "at least 300,000 aliens" have entered this country unlawfully since passage of the Immigration Act of 1924, and that the statute of limitations makes the number deportable less than the number here today.

Approximately 16,000 were deported last year, he said, and if that number could be doubled, jobs now being held by deportable aliens would be available for American labor.

"Why do you read the ads?" we ask. "We read them," they tell us "for information and suggestions.

WHAT IS A TOWN?

What is a town? Is it a number of persons living within a certain radius, each living his life with little or no thought about the man who lives next to him? Or does the word town signify more than mere residence in a certain place? If by town we mean anything, we must mean that feeling of neighborhood relation which binds one to another; that source of interdependence which makes the well-being of each member of a community an integral part of the well-being of the entire group. This is what we like to think of our town. Not its houses, streets, nor even its people, but the community interests which bind those people together in one bond of harmony.

It is this bond; this community feeling which has been behind all development. It is but another name for community pride, that force which is ever at work in the beautification of every town. It is but another form of that great patriotism which makes one country in all the world stand out apart as "My Country." It is the great incentive to home building and town building.

Find a town where love of home and of the home town is strong in its people, and you will find a town that is prosperous, whose people have pride in their homes and in their country. Find a town where community feeling is lacking, and you will find a community of knockers; men who buy from anyone rather than the home-town merchant, who belittle every effort for advancement, who do not read the home town paper, and whose merchants do not advertise.

Community interest is the leaven which raises towns from villages. It makes the business of your neighbor as vital almost as your own, because his failure would injure your town; his success would add to its prosperity. It makes the purchase of goods in another town which may be bought at home, an offense against the public good. It binds man to man within the community; it makes the interest of one, the interest of all, and it results in prosperity.

WHAT IS NEWS?

Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, began writing for the papers when he was only thirteen years old. He started as a printer's devil in the composing room of a small Indiana newspaper. Ever since, the news has been his life. At the age of fifty, his almost uncanny sense of the relative human-interest values of events and personalities has placed him at the head of one of the world's foremost news gathering and distributing organizations.

The American Magazine recently asked Mr. Cooper to select, for its readers, the ten greatest news events of the year 1930. He found it no easy task. Commenting on his plans for selecting the world events which proved most stirring to American readers during the past year, Mr. Cooper says:

"News which interests the vast majority of newspaper readers has a strange quality. News of vast significance to the world at large and to each of us individually is often the outcome of long negotiations and deliberations. But the news that stirs us most, the big story, is almost always spontaneous.

"What makes a great news story? That question may have a dozen answers. Some stories demand the talents of inspired writers to present them in proper perspective. Others virtually write themselves because of the impressiveness of the simple facts.

"But the supreme test of the really big news story is more intangible. It must have the lure to seize and hold the attention of newspaper readers to the exclusion of all other interests for the moment.

"Selecting the ten biggest news stories of the year is like selecting the then most beautiful women or the ten greatest paintings. The choice depends on one's taste, environment, emotional tendency. Not two persons in ten thousand will agree on such a list."

SIMPLIFYING CHRISTMAS FOR SIMPLE FATHERS

Among some official suggestions for the proper Christmas gift for "Father Whose Wants Are Simple" emanating from a government bureau anxious to help us hectic Christmas shoppers is "something in the bedding line (tinted sheets)." Yes, parenthesis, and all!

We know some fathers with simple tastes who would reach the boiling point if presented with a nice little package of tinted sheets. However, the government probably speaks in a broader sense than our immediate paternal acquaintanceship.

ADVERTISING

Does it pay to advertise? We'll say it does. Take old Dame Nature for instance. When it's Spring, every tree, bush and blade of grass proclaims the fact. If we had to search out old Dame Nature and ask her when it was Spring, not many would take the trouble. Merchants often expect people to come to their stores and ask what they have to sell. Others follow the example of the wise old lady who uses every wayside shrub to shout her wares. Which type would you expect to prosper? So would we.

Love's Sacrifice
By Mildred Barbour

For a moment she put aside her worries and gave herself up to the pleasure of dancing.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

Sally Todd and Lois Montgomery leave home to seek their fortunes in New York.

Sally's brother, Bert, who is in love with Lois, follows them.

Lois meets a young man whom she knew when she was a wealthy woman's secretary.

He and a chap named FRISBY show her and Sally little attention, but Lois' thoughts are chiefly on the problems of existence.

Lois finally gets a job with a firm of interior decorators. Sally struggles for a foothold in the movies. They have a hard time making both ends meet.

Sally enters hospital training, finally convinced that the films ha. no future for her.

Lois is absorbed i nher own work.

During her employer's illness, she is sent to the palatial residence of James Walton to make a preliminary report.

Sally's liking for gay company causes a coolness between herself and Lois.

It also involves Lois in difficulties with Bert.

Lois is strongly attracted to Walton, who is much older than herself, and very rich and distinguished. —She finds him very cold and domineering.

—He demands she give up her friendship with Sally.

Sally, meanwhile, is in hot water at the hospital, because she is too fond of a good time.

Chapter 24

After an especially gay party she is assigned in an emergency to night duty.

She falls asleep while waiting for the special nurse to come, and the patient, in her delirium, rushes from the room and jumps from a window. By a miracle she escapes with minor injuries, but Sally's fate is sealed.

Unfit

She is dismissed in disgrace just before graduation.

Chapter 30.

Dr. Dale Randolph, out of sympathey, offers her a position in his office. He does not guess that Sally, while at the hospital, occasionally used drugs to bloster up her energies after gay parties.

Lois provides Sally with a little home in the country.

Sally falls in love with Dr. Randolph, who has no idea of her feeling for him.

Randolph meets Lois and likes her at once.

This is too much for Sally. She again resorts to the use of drugs, and, while in a befuddled condition, tells Randolph she loves him.

Randolph lays the situation before Lois and asks her help.

An anonymous letter linking Lois's name with Dr. Dandolph's reaches James Walton. He tells her that he does not believe the charge, but warns her to avoid any conduct that might cause idle talk.

Chapter 40.

She is convinced that the letter came from Sally. The latter takes an overdose of drugs, in what Lois believes to be a fit remorse, and Lois and Randolph again go to her aid.

Chapter 41

By MILDRED BARBOUR
Illustrated by HUGH HUTTON

Suspicion

When James Walton told his wife that he attached little significance to the anonymous letter that linked her name with Dr. Randolph's, he had spoken the truth. Nevertheless, the matter became the basis of a plan that had been in the back of his mind for several months.

Walton was deeply disappointed in his marriage. He had expected Lois to be a very material help to him in his struggle for social recognition, and she had been very little. There was nothing of the climber in Lois. She liked people for what they were, not for what they could do for her.

Walton had no acquaintances outside of his business circle. The guests he brought home were always moddle-aged men. Like himself, they were wrapped up in business.

Lois tried hard to find them interesting, but she had to confess to herself that they were frightfully dull. What was worse, she was certain that they found her as unsatisfactory as she found them. She never neglected her social duties, but she never managed to be a social success.

Walton seemed to go on the theory that a vast amount of entertaining must at last produce results. There was hardly a night when he and Lois did not have guests or go out. This gave an even more formal tone to their lives, if that were possible.

Lois reflected uneasily that she seldom saw her husband, except in the presence of others. They had very little to say to each other now. These conservations were chiefly about domestic matters — plans for a week-end party, redecoration of the house, the laying out of a new garden. Lois would have found all these things very delightful, if her husband had not discussed them with her in the same dry, business-like manner that he used when he gave orders to his secretary.

Recently, as Walton observed Lois's failure to make progress toward social recognition, he began to regret their marriage. "My one bad bit of judgment," he curtly termed her in his own thoughts.

Soon he found himself wondering whether it wouldn't be possible to get rid of her. But that thought he dismissed as fantastic. He must give her more time. Perhaps she would be more successful later on.

One day, when he was lunching at his club, he met Dr. Randolph, who was there as a guest. Walton pricked up his ears as he heard Randolph's name. He edged into the group about the doctor, and, during a lull in the conversation, introduced himself.

"I believe you know my wife," he said. "Partners in a philanthropic enterprise, as it were." He eyed Randolph covertly.

The doctor noticed Walton's cold eyes, his tight mouth. He recalled Sally's designation of "old crab," and smiled to himself. It fitted perfectly. When Walton smiled, he seemed to resent doing it.

Lois had often noticed that, and she recalled the days before their marriage, when his smile, rare though it was, made him look almost boyish.

Dr. Randolph was about to speak, then hesitated. "Philanthropic enterprise!" That was a cold-blooded way of putting it. He wondered how much Lois's husband knew about Sally's pitiful story. Something warned him not to say a great deal to this grim-looking person.

"Mrs. Walton has been wonderfully kind to my office assistant," he said. "An old acquaintance, I think."

Someone else claimed his attention then, and he turned away. Walton stood looking after him. That night Lois could hardly believe her ears when her husband said:

"I met Dr. Dandolph at the club today. He seems to be a fine chap."

Lois stared and then murmured something that he did not catch. Nor could she herself have remembered what it was, if he had asked her to repeat it.

"I was thinking," Walton went on, "that you might ask him to come to dinner Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Walbridge are bringing their niece, you remember. We'll need a young man for her."

"Why, yes," Lois said, not knowing what else to say. "I'll write to him tomorrow."

Dr. Randolph was as surprised to receive Lois's invitation to dinner as she was at the suggestion that she send it. But he accepted at once. He had an idea that it would be a solemn affair, but he couldn't refuse an opportunity to see Lois.

The first part of the evening was even more dismal than Dr. Randolph had thought it could be. When dinner was over, he sat unhappily with the other men and listened to a great deal of talk about business. Through it all, only one thought was in his mind — how does she endure it?

Later, when the Walbridges' niece seemed to be having a rather poor time, Walton suggested that "the young people might like to dance." Then he joined a group of stock market devotees, which included everyone except the Walbridges' niece, Lois, Randolph, and a polo player. The four danced in the conservatory.

And Lois, who was worried about Sally and puzzled as to why her husband had suggested that she ask Dale Randolph to dinner, after the anonymous letter episode, found herself having a good time. For a moment she put aside her worries and gave herself up to the pleasure of dancing. She had fallen into the state of mind where she was willing to snatch at a moment's happiness to crowd out the sense of failure that oppressed her whenever she was in her husband's presence.

HOLLYWOOD'S FILM SHOP

By GEORGE H. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (UP)—Dolores del Rio, the Mexican star, seems in line to capture all hard luck titles for Hollywood.

Scarcely two years ago she was at the very top of the film scramble, but a series of bad publicity breaks hurt her tremendously and then came her present illness.

Her first bad luck followed closely on her divorce from Jaime del Rio and was rumored at the time to have been promoted by her failure to submit to certain advertising hook-ups.

She received many unkind notices and these became worse when Jaime died in Berlin shortly after the divorce.

Her last picture, made under the direction of Eddie Carewe, "Evangeline," was not so successful as earlier ones under his direction.

Then Dolores went to the United Artists lot.

She appeared to be in the midst of a come-back when she made "The Bad One," but immediately on top of that success her former attorney, Gunther Lessing, brought suit against her.

Her marriage to Cedric Gibbons, the art director, helped to silence the rumors that followed Lessing's suit.

She started rehearsing for "The Dove," but the day before United Artists was to begin shooting it she became ill.

The cast was held together for a month, hoping for the Mexican star's early recovery, but it finally was disbanded when her condition did not improve.

Two weeks ago she was removed to the hospital and now after treatments she has been released and physicians predict a return to health soon.

As soon as she feels well again she will once again attempt to climb back to her place among the greatest of Hollywood's box office attractions.

A man leaped in to rescue him, but was dragged under and barely escaped. The body of the youth was not recovered.

LONDON, Dec. 11 (UP).—Sturdy constables here are to be the judges of when a Christmas carol ceases to be music and becomes a penny-jerker. ### ROSSIS ENTERTAIN AT BRIDGE AND DANCING

Mr. and Mrs. Amerigo Rossi entertained a small group of friends at their home, 168 Iris street, Saturday evening. Bridge and dancing were the diversion and at midnight a buffet supper was seryed.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Leman Bostwick, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tate and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Heiry.

High scores in the bridge games were made by Mrs. Bostwick and Mr. Johnson with the consolations going to Mrs Heiry and Mrs. Gardiner.

CHURCH CLASS TO STAGE "THE OTHER WISE MAN"

The Mizpah class of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will present "The Other Wise Man" a Christmas play written by Henry Van Dyke, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church auditorium.

Miss Bess Balcomb, who will direct the performance has been rehearsing the young Thespians in their parts. She will be assisted by Mr. Thomas Vernall and Mr. A. Hall in the staging and lighting effects.

THE RAINBOW GIRLS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Rainbow Girls will have their Christmas party Monday evening at 7:30. The club rooms will be festive with Yule tide greenery. A number of young girls will be initiated and all members of the Eastern Star and Masonic orders are invited to the ceremonies.

Miss Gertrude Gibson, Worthy Advisor and Miss Martha Brand, Associate Worthy Advisor, will head the officers in charge of the initiation.

The members will also complete the Christmas baskets they are preparing for needy families.

A light supper will be served after the ceremonies.

MISS BECKER HOSTESS AT BRIDGE TEA

One of the lovliest Christmas parties held this week was the bridge tea given by Miss Charlotte Becker at her home in Atherton, Wednesday afternoon.

Christmas greens and a gayly decorated tree added to the Yule-tide spirit of the party. Miss Becker's guests were the Misses Edith Grimmenstein, Ora Palmer, Margaret Feldsher, Josephine Gibson, Tamaki Nao, Lucille Moore, Shirley Langford, Alice Foss, Brita Seebohn, Vivian Kay, Phillis Blackington, Betty Bright, Gloria Grandi, Berth Moulthrop, Vera Waller, Helen O'Connell, Kathleen Benson and Janet Wood.

High scores were made by Miss Vera Waller and Miss Vivian Kay while the consolation was awarded Miss Ora Palmer.

MISS IRENE WAITE WEDS RUSSELL WRIGHT

The marriage of Miss Irene Waite and Mr. Russell Wright of Palo Alto, was solemnized Monday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Waite. Rev. J. E. Morozik of the Redeemer Lutheran church read the impressive Lutheran wedding service.

Miss Helen Wright attended the bride as maid of honor and Mr. Clarence Nielsen performed the duties of best man.

A family dinner followed the ceremoney and then the young couple motored south on their wedding trip. Mrs. Wright is a popular member of the younger set in this in this city and graduated from Sequoia Union high school. Mr. Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wright of Bellingham, Washington.

They will make their home in Palo Alto on their return from the south.

LOCAL COUPLE SURPRISE FRIENDS WITH WEDDING

Taking only their close friends into their confidence, Miss Bertha Mittel, member of the Sequoia High faculty, and Mr. Marshal White, local business man, slipped quietly away to Del Monte Wednesday and were there married at 5 o'clock in the evening at St. John's church. Attending the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Crumb, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crumb, Mrs. Sanford Dole and two children, Miss Rose Kelley and Miss Marion Hosmer, Mrs. Fred Schiller of San Francisco, sister of Mr. White, was also present.

Following the ceremony, the young couple left for a honeymoon in the southern part of the state. Upon their return they will make their home in Redwood.

The bride's former home is in Ceres, Stanislaus county, where her mother resides. She has been a member of the Sequoia faculty for the past three years, being instructor in the applied arts department.

The groom's former home is in Tennessee. He is a graduate of the University of California and for the past six years has been associated with the San Mateo County Title Co. in this city.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS CHILDREN'S PARTY

The Redwood City Woman's Club party held yesterday at the club house for the members and their children was a very successful affair. Each child brought a gift for Santa Claus to carry away to gladden the hearts of less fortunate children.

A beautifully decorated tree greeted the young and older folks (for who does not thrill at the sight of a lighted tree, with glittering ornaments—and the smell of a green fir?)

A very delightful program of music, dancing and song was presented by the following children: Orchestra number by Mrs. Fonda's pupils—Warren Butterfield, Doris Camoin, William Crosby, Jack Duttweiler, Francis Goldsworthy, Walter Peterson, Fernandez Pedro, Genevieve Peddicord, Wayne Peddicord and Charles Woodmansee.

Song—Velma Thompson.
Dance—Helen Steele.
Piano Solo—Betty Heiry.
Piano Solo—Margaret Steele.
Reading—Faye Kennedy.
Dance — Meredith Clattenburg, Donna Gardiner and Nell Taylor.
Piano trio—Robert Downs, Fred Duttweiler, and Kenneth Moulton.
Dance—Bernice Gardiner.
Piano Solo—Ruth Waren.
Tap dance—Beatrice Maranta and Katherine Kalenborn.
Banjo duet—Walter Peterson, Fernandez Pedro.

Mrs. Harold Simpton was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The tea hostesses were Mrs. A. J. Stebenne, Mrs. F. M. Perkins and Mrs. Richard Peirce.

Mrs. W. H. Thorpe and infant daughter, Mary Evelyn, returned yesterday to their home at 269 Fulton street from the Mills Memorial Hospital, where the little girl was born on December 4.

George Bettin, a former resident of this city, but now engaged in the orange business in Glendora, was a visitor here on Wednesday. While here he attended the Redwood City Kiwanis club.

Miss Marion Hosmer and Miss Rose Kelley, teachers at Sequoia high school, left Wednesday by motor to spend the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles with relatives.

Warren Immel, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Immel of Mill Valley, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Ole Johnson, on Duane street. Mr. and Mrs. Immel and an other son, Dick, will arrive next week to spend the Christmas holidays at the Johnson home.

WOODSIDE

James F. Driscoll, chief of the Woodside Fire Department, is taking his summer vacation in the winter. Being unwilling to leave his post while the fire hazard was great, he postponed his vacation period until the present time.

The Woodside Fire Commissioners feel flattered that the color scheme adopted by them for the fire hydrants in this district has been copied by the Redwood City department.

Mrs. James Eva of San Francisco was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mighall over the last week-end.

Miss May Ralston was a visitor this week at the home of B. D. Ralston of Woodside.

Miss Schroder, a niece, and Henri Audiffred, a nephew, together with Mr. and Mrs. Ousten of San Francisco were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Audiffred.

Mrs. J. Johnson of Oakland, sister of Mrs. Emma Andreen, has been visiting at the Andreen home this week.

The Christmas exercises of the Woodside Sunday School will be held at the church on Saturday evening December 27th weather permitting. Miss May Huddart, superintendent of the Sunday School, is preparing her pupils for the program to be presented on that occasion.

Miss Margaret Stewart, who is attending the University of California, has returned to her home here for the holidays.

Charles T. Bradley and his son, Rupert, have returned from a motor trip through Southern California to the Mexican line.

Hiram Slocum, who has been employed on the Gilman place, with his family has moved to San Jose.

Two new houses are under construction in Woodside Glens and six more are planned for the early spring.

The living Christmas trees that made such a gallant showing in Woodside last year are again taking on their decoration of colored lights and stand boldly out against the dark background of the hills on these frosty nights.

Miss Katherine Belcher and Miss Ruth Brown of the grammar school department also left Wednesday for their homes in Eureka and Arcata to be with their families at Christmas time.

Judge Butler of Marin County set in bank with Judge Buck yesterday. He was here to try a jury case in the superior court that went over for a week. Judge Butler is one of the best known jurists inthe state.

Dr. and Mrs. George T. O'Sullivan and three children who have been here for the past month visiting Mrs. O'Sullivan's mother, Mrs. S. A. Shalberg on Cedar street, and other relatives, left Sunday for their home in Portland, Oregon.

Miss Margaret Kalenborn has received an offer from the Palo Alto high school to take charge of the study hall and teach a subject. Miss Kalenborn is a graduate of Sequoia high school and Stanford University. She will assume the duties of the new position at the beginning of the next semester.

Mrs. Maude Hayword and Miss Edna Hayward will come up from Pasadena to-day to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kalenborn and family at their home on Jeter street. Mrs. Hayward is Mrs. Kalenborn's mother and Miss Hayward, her sister. They have been making their home in Pasadena for a number of years, Miss Hayward being the head of the language department in the high school there.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brand were called to Bodega Bay, Sonoma county, this week on account of the death of Mrs. Brand's aunt, Mrs. Sarah Cheney. Mrs. Cheney passed away Monday at the ripe old age of 97 years. She was in excellent health up to a short time before her death and only last summer prided herself upon being able to work in her vegetable garden on the large ranch which she owned at Bodega Bay. Mrs. Cheney had lived on the ranch for 75 years and is said to have been the oldest resident in Sonoma county. She leaves one son, Ed Chaney and a daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Lang. The funeral was yesterday, the services being held in Sebastopol. The remains of the pioneer woman were interred on the family farm at Bodega Bay.

Grant Taylor, clerk of the state supreme court, was here yesterday in connection with the Henry Finkler estate of which he is one of the legatees. Mr. Taylor has held his present position since 1910 when he was elected. Since then the state constitution has been amended to the effect that the supreme judges make the appointment of their clerk and he holds the place at their pleasure. Mr. Taylor is a very popular and able official. He formerly lived at Saratoga.

DEADWOOD, S. D. (UP)—A gasoline motor for use in automobiles and airplanes which operates without a crankshaft has been invented and put on display here by Albret Andrews, engineer.

TRY AND BEAT THIS TRIO

These Santa Maria, Cal., youngsters have just emerged from two years of stiff competition without having tasted a single defeat, and some senior swimming records stand a good chance of cracking when one or all three boys grow up. Left to right they are: Harry Saunders, 11, who swims breast stroke; Carol Johnson, 13, who displays a mean crawl, and Paul Scaroni, 12, back stroke artist.

SPEAKING of SPORT

BY FRANK GETTY

Football Elimination Plan Is Attempted

Decision of Loyola University of Chicago to abolish inter-collegiate football has aroused considerable interest throughout the middle-west but is not likely to inaugurate a general blacklisting of the gridiron sport.

While several other small schools, notably in Indiana, are considering similar action because of unsatisfactory gate receipts during the past year, major schools throughout the territory were quick to defend football, and to declare that they were not faced with the "over-emphasis" problem which caused Loyola's action.

In announcing the abolishment of inter-collegiate football, Rev. Robert M. Kelley, S. J. president of Loyola, said that the sport no longer served its purpose as a collegiate activity, but was competing with commercialized amusements for the patronage of the public.

Father Kelley's statement gave enemies of football new amunition for their attacks on the sport, but carries less weight than if it came from an institution where football has been less highly commercialized.

Heaviest Schedule In Histroy

During the past year Loyola played its heaviest schedule in history, with intersectional games against Georgetown, Boston College, Dusquesne, Loyola of New Orleans and South Dakota. Home games were played in a newly completed concrete stadium and were staged on Friday nights in an attempt to increase receipts.

The season was the most successful, financially, in Loyola's history although the team won few of its games, a factor which Father Kelley said had nothing to do with the decision to drop the sport.

Abolishment of football is not altogether new. Columbia, John Hopkins, Purdue, Northwestern Columbia college and University of Dubuque once tried it but in every case football has been restored as an intercollegiate sport.

Already students at Loyola have protested the school's action and campus sentiment is strongly in favor of football's retention.

It is doubtful if Loyola's officials will revise their decision before next seasen but neither the new concrete stadium with its seating capacity of 12,000 spectators nor the expensive lighting system have been destroyed and it will not be surprising to see Loyola return to competition during the 1932 season.

SPORT BRIEFS

TOTALISATORS BOOST RACE TRACK BETS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 18 (UP)—Totalisator receipts on Britian's race tracks this year have exceeded 3,000,000 pounds approximately six times the 1929 figure.

Six per cent is the normal deduction from the Totalisator pool, but all investments on the daily double event, in which the minimum stake is ten shillings, and all National Hunt (jumping) meets, are subject to ten per cent deduction.

Racing here has been somewhat cheapened since the introduction of the "Tote." Most of the tracks have followed Newmarket's lead by reducing admission charges. Bookmakers, however, have to pay two or three times the normal charges at meets where the totalisator functions.

As a general body the bookmakers have suffered comparatively little by the machine system. They still handle the bulk of the beting which takes place in the big ring known as "Tattersall's." In any case all the heavy wagering is done on the credit system, which the totalisator, working on a cash system, cannot touch.

It is estimated that bookmakers in the big ring do nearly 20 times as much business as their rival. So far as substantial transactions are concerned, the volume of ready money betting at the various tracks is relatively small.

Player Has Travel Record

BOSTON, Dec. 18 (UP)—Ceslaus "Chessy" Antos, star back of the Boston College Football team, has traveled more than 14,000 miles in playing out-of-state games as a high school and collegiate player. Excluding Notre Dame regulars, this is believed to constitute a near record.

SOUTHPAWS HELPED

CINCINNATI, Dec. 18 (UP)—The deceptive passing game of Xavier University's football team this season was aided by the fact that four members of the team could pass the ball left handed. The four left-handers, all backfield players, were Jim Stout, Paul Kelley, Hugh Clines and Harry Foley.

SONG WRITER PLAYS POLO

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 18 (UP)—Among the enthusiastic students of polo at Pinehurst is Zo Elliott, Manchester, N. H., who with Stoddart King, his classmate back at Yale in 1913, won international fame for their song "Long, Long Trail." Elliott wrote the music and King the words. Elliott will leave soon for Paris where he will tackle the task of composing the music that will make grand opera of the play "What Price Glory?" While abroad he will play polo in Europe, England and Ireland.

Still Lucky

In 1927 Emory Bronte navigated the first single-motored plane ever to fly from San Francisco to the Hawaiian islands, and luckily escapead the fate that overtook seven other flyers in the tragic Dole flight a short time later. Today, in announcing his engagement to Miss Martha Edwina Griffith of Terrell, Tex., he declares his luck has not left him. Bronte, now aviation head for a California oil company, and the pretty Texas girl will be married in San Francisco next Saturday.

Children Parade in Mother Goose Show

The Mother Goose parade arranged by the Redwood City Retailers, took place Wednesday afternoon. The children formed in procession on upper Broadway, and from there marched down to the intersection of Broadway and Main street. Here the group was photographed and the judges awarded the $35 in prizes which were offered to the best entrants.

The judges of the affair were Mayor D. R. Stafford, City Manager E. A. Rolison, Wilbur Doxsee, Miss Willhelmina Harper and Mrs. Elizabeth Strobeck.

Telephone Club Planning Party

A big Christmas party is being planned for children of employees of the telephone company by members of the Live Wire Social Club, an organization composed of employees of the telephone organization. The affair will be held in the Masonic Temple in Palo Alto on the evening of Monday, December 22. The club is composed of telephone workers from South San Francisco to Palo Alto.

Following the Christmas program it is expected that the evening will be spent in dancing.

Iowa Farmers Aid Poor of Chicago

WASHINGTON, Iowa, Dec. 17 (UP)—The prosperous farmers of Washington county, Iowa, began a poultry roundup today to send a carload of fresh poultry to the poor of Chicago in time for Christmas.

About 1,000 plump birds, representing the surplus from most of the chicken yards in the county, will be shipped to the Chicago Rotary club for distribution Friday morning.

The farmers are particularly anxious that the chickens get into the hands of needy mothers and children.

Eagle Basketballers Lose in First Combat

The recently organized basketball team of the Redwood City Eagles played their initial game in the Sequoia gym Wednesday night against the San Jose Golds and finished on the short end of a 28 to 24 score after a hectic contest. The locals led at half time 11 to 9. The second half was a thrilling one, with first one team leading and then the other. The Eagles miesd quite a few throws at the basket, while the visitors had all the luck with them in sinking the casaba. Shine and Cofiori starred for the Eagles.

The locals lined up as follows: Barbietta, Jordan, Mettler and Johnson, forwards; Lutge, center; and Shine and Cofiori, guards.

The Eagles will play their next game Tuesday night against the strong National Magnesia plant team of Pittsburgh. Close to 200 interested fans witnessed the game Wednesday night.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

When Jack Hale, 57, a dentist, appeared before Judge Edward I. McAuliffe on a charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace, he was sentenced to a term of 90 days in the county jail, and the sentence was suspended. Hale was arrested on Tuesday by Officers Rosa and Fogarty of the Redwood City police department.

GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Polly Sibran, 30, a housewife, was arrested on Monday by Officers Rosa and Fogarty on a charge of being drunk, and was booked at the county jail. She was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge Edward I. McAuliffe on Wednesday, and the sentence was suspended.

Teachers Meet

ute was "Education may be obtained only by close application and hard work: there is no royal road to learning."

Nowadays, the idea that it is possible to play one's way to education seems to be the vogue in not a few localities, but after forty-four years o fexperience and observation the assertion is ventured that the fundamentals of the institute of pioneer days are more to be depended upon.

During the intervening years, marveleous changes have taken place, everywhere, but nowhere, more than in our own county. The advance in population and wealth is reflected in the most excellent opportunities for obtaining an education. The rising generation have the full benefit of their self-denying predecessors. All that is hoped for is that their achievements will be in accordance with their better facilities.

Of the teachers who were present when G. P. Hartley called his institute to order in 1886, two, George W. Hall of San Mateo and W. J. Savage of Daly City were on the roll when Miss Pansy J. Abbott called her institute to order last Monday.

This year, as for several years past, the greater part of the institute period has been passed with all the teachers of the bay counties, meeting in San Francisco or Oakland. The object of this is to give each class of teachers an opportunity to hear the prominent instructors who deal with his or her line of work.

Only half a day was spent in Burlingame and part of that time was devoted to local official work.

Miss Pansy J. Abbott, the county superintendent, in a cheerful manner, welcomed all the teachers saying she was proud of them individually and knew they were working hard to advance those entrusted to their care. She announced that although it was planned to spend only half a day in Burlingame, still if it was found necessary to take more time for local work she was willing to consent to the remainder of the day. It did take until past noon and then she popularized herself by stating that teachers might mark on their report cards two sessions for the Burlingame meeting.

The first speaker of the morning was Roy W. Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers' Association, who spoke on proposed school legislation. Bills to be favored are the new tenure law, new retirement fund law, laws legalizing teachers' limited sickness absence with pay and sabbotical absence, laws proposing and insuring additional financial support for high schools, and laws equalizing suport for all schools.

The following should be opposed he said: the proposed law putting the printing of supplementary text as the regular text books are now and the law giving the boards of supervisors of the counties the right of modifying the school budget of each district.

Cloud was well received as he is a prominent figure in the school affairs of this county.

The next speaker was Frederic Woellner, associate professor of education, University of California, Los Angeles, who spoke on "The International Mind." He was both instructive and humorous. He said that the best citizen was the one who thought in the greatest circle beginning with vital interest in his own locality and gradually extending his vision taking into consideration the state, the nation, and finally the entire world; that there were three menaces to be overcome if possible: disease, poverty, and war. He disagreed with the celebrated Einstein who stated that women are not educatiable. He knew the contrary as he had taught a thousand a year and lived with one for sixteen years. Otherwise he knew nothing about the great Einstein.

The third speaker was Harr Wagner, a well-known publisher of San Francisco, and a popular literary character of the state. He spoke in a very interesting manner of the life and writings of Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras. Very clearly he made all of his hearers see the much maligned and honored poet as one worthy of the high place in literature accorded to him. He recited a number of quotations from Miller's writings with great effect. Generous applause followed the close of the address.

The institute was then turned over to the San Mateo County Teachers' Association with President A. C. Argo of the Sequoia Union High School presiding and H. C. Hall of San Bruno acting as secretary.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with in order to save time, by motion. The officers' reports were read and approved. The bills for the year were read and ordered paid.

Resolutions along the lines of Roy W. Cloud's address were read and adopted.

The following were nominated and elected officers of the Association for the coming year:

A. C. Argo, president (re-elected); Hunter Dean, vice-president; and H. C. Hall, secretary (re-elected).

The following were elected delegates from this county to the meetings of the State Teachers' Association: Pansy J. Abbott, Oscar H. Olson, Clara E. Norton.

The remaining two and a half days were passed in San Francisco attending the session of the Bay Counties' joint institute.

Federal Trade Report Seeks More Power

Request Made in Connection With Anti-Trust Probes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (UP) — A request for broader power in its investigations of alleged violations of the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust acts was made of Congress by the Federal Trade Commission in its annual rport made public tonight.

An amendment to the commission's organic act—the Federal trade commission act of 1915—was recommended to "set at rest any doubt" as to the commission's authority to subpoena witnesses and force the submission of necessary documents in cases before it.

The report also asked an amendment to the act to "put beyond question the grant of specific authority" to make investigations upon request of either the Senate of House in aid of their legislative functions.

Fireproof Quarters

Renewed demand was made by the commission for fireproof quarters as a result of the fire which wrecked its 13-year-old "temporary" war-time biulding last August. The fire was described as "an event of far-reaching significance and has an important bearing on the current work of this commission." Cause of the fire was reported as "undetermined," the commission said.

Outstanding among the commission's activities this year, the report said, were the following:

Examination of the financial structure of several large utility holding companies, including Electric Bond and Share, American Gas Electric, American Power and Light, National Power and Light, W. B. Foshay Campanies.

Electric Power

Investigation of the amount of electric power transmitted over state boundaries, indicating a much larger total inter-state movement of electric energy in 1928 than 1928.

Comprehensive comparison of chain and independent store prices in three cities, Washington, Cincinnati and Des Moines, with greater progress in the chain store inquiry shown for the previous year because of having for the first time sufficient field and office workers.

Holding of 57 trade-practice conferences with as many industries, looking to the revision of certain rules adopted by those industries at conferences held with the commission.

THE OTHER WISE MAN

"The Other Wise Man," a dramatized version of the story, by Henry Van Dyke will be presented by the Mizpah class assisted by the boys and girls from the high school classes of the First Methodist church on Sunday evening, December 21.

The beautiful story of Artaban, "The Other Wise Man," depicts his trials as he tried to join the other three Magi, Casper, Melchior, and Balthazar in Egypt. He is hindered because he stops to aid a poor stricken Jew, whom he comes upon, as he crosses the desert. The Jew tells him that Jesus will be found in Bethlehem. He arrives too late to join his companions, but he presses on, and arrives in Bethlehem, only to find Herod's soldiers are killing the children. He saves one child by bribing a soldier with his precious ruby. He learns that Joseph and Mary have fled to Egypt.

Thirty-three years pass and Artaban still seeks the King. On the day of the crucifixion, he arrives in Jerusalem, and spends his last jewel to save a young girl from dishonor. He dies as a great light shines upon him, and a voice is heard saying, "Verily I say unto you. In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

A beautiful draped setting is being prepared by Tom Vernall and Addison Hall to depict the four impressive scenes demanded by the play.

Cast of Characters

Artaban, The Other Wise Man, Man, Fred Schmitz; Rhodaspes, Elvey Coombs; Abdus, James Sommerville; Tigranes, Joe Paron; Marsena, Elvin Hopping.

Abgarus, the old counciler, Waldo Munday; A woman of Bethlehem, Marjorie Stephens; A Roman Centurion, Karl Peters; A Roman Soldier, Kenneth Bennet; Women of Bethlehem, Girls of Fidela Class; A sick Man, Elvey Coombs; Messenger, Ted Thorn; A peasant, Joe Paron; A young girl, Jean Dillard; A slave merchant, Kenneth Bennett.

Time—One to thirty-three A. D.

Scenes—1. Artaban's council room in his home in Persia.
2. A Desert Place.
3. A Street in Bethlehem.
4. Market Place in Jerusalem.

The play is under the direction of Bess G. Balcomb. It will be presented in the main auditorium of the First Methodist church of Redwood City, Sunday night at 7:30. A silver offering will be taken.

Daring Capers In "Feet First"

Thrills just like in "Safety First," only more so. That is the advance announcement about Harold Lloyd's latest talkie, "Feet First, which comes to the Sequoia Theatre in this city next week, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

"Safety First was the greatest thriller that the spectacled genius of mirth and gasps ever made. In it he was seen climbing about, falling and catching himself just in time on the roof edges and cornices of skyscrapers. Now comes "Feet First" with a lot more thrills.

Harold is seen as an ambitious young apprentice shoe clerk who, in his effort to make good with his employer gets into all kinds of humorous situations—putting gun-boat sized shoes on the cute tooties of his employer's wife; crashing a society ball in order to impress a young lady he falls in love with; finding himself aboard a trans-Pacific steamer without a ticket; hiding in a mail bag only to be picked up and carried with the mail on a ship-to-shore airplane, and finally landing on a painter's scoffolding in mid-air, wrapped up in the mail-bag.

Then following those hair-raising thrills which are so typically Lloyd. He wriggles free from the bag, looks about him, and realizes with horror that a slight jolt will catapult him hundreds of feet to the ground below. He almost loses his grip in one screaming lurch after another, but finally makes a safe descent to terra firma.

Needless to say he wins the girl—and he deserves to, after such a hazardous experience.

The girl is Barbara Kent, the petite charmer who was Harold's leading lady in "Welcome Danger" his first talkie, which pleased thousands of patrons of this theatre when it ran here about a year ago.

Others in the cast of this super-special are Robert McWade, Alec Francis, and Lillianne Leighton.

Associated Firemen Elect New Officers

The Associated Firemen of San Mateo county held their last meeting of the year at the Burlingame Firehouse, Tuesday evening, December 16th, with a large attendance. Routine matters were disposed of. The action of the State Chamber of Commerce asking for $300,000.00 appropriation for forest fire prevention work was endorsed at the request of that body and the following officers for the Association elected to serve during the coming year:

President, William Schade, of San Bruno; 1st vice president, Horace Duckenfield, of Belmont; 2nd vice-president, C. J. Quinn, of Bayshore; secretary, R. E. Wilson, of Redwood City; treasurer, E. F. Michelson, of Burlingame; marshal, V. Taylor, of Burlingame; trustees, C. F. Reinhart, of Daly City; C. Emerson, of South San Francisco; J. M. Marston, of Belmont.

Bayshore was designated as the next meeting place in January, at which time the West Trophy will be awarded.

EXPENSIVE TREE

One of the most expensive Christmas trees secured in this county was that of Marcelino Orteco, who cut the tree on Kings Mountain. Orteco paid $25 when he was hailed into the court of Justice of the Peace Edward Ferrell of South San Francisco for cutting the tree without the consent of the owner of the property.

Lamont Looks For Resumption Of Prosperity

Commerce Secretary's Annual Report Reflects Confidence for Future

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (UP)—Confidently looking to the future and a continuation of the forward march of business, Secretary of Commerce Lamount predicted tonight that when the present recession is over the upward movement in industrial efficiency and production per man will be resumed.

His report to President Hoover on the status and progress of American industry and commerce during the fiscal year 1930 revealed clearly and concisely the effects of the stock market crash of a year ago, but pointed out that "practically no cuts in wages have been made as a result of the recession."

Describing the advance in efficiency of production as the fundamental cause of the rise in the standards of living which has characterized every decade of our national existance, Lamont said:

"This progress in the production is conclusive evidence that the advance in economic activity has not been wholly or even chiefly a mere upswing in the business cycle to be followed by an equally downword movement.

"It has marked a permanent achievement, and when the present recession is over the same upward movement will unquestionably be resumed."

Employment during the year declined 3.7 per cent, the Secretary said, while wages fell off 5.3 per cent, the difference being accounted for by the prevalence of part-time work.

The cost of living declined about 5 per cent between November, 1929, and June, 1930, according to the report.

$30,000 Damage Suit Filed Here

Suit for $30,000 has been started in two actions filed in the superior court here against Frank Alves and Fred Marsh, of Halfmoon Bay. The two actions were filed by Anselmo Mangiantini and M. Landucci and are for $25,000 and $5000 respectively.

The suits are the result of an accident which occurred on October 30, when a car owned by Marsh and driven by Alves collided with one driven by Mangiantini and in which Landucci was a passenger.

Mangiantini alleges in his suit that his right eye was permanently injured as the result of the accident. While Landucci charges that both legs were injured in the collision, and that he was permanently scarred.

Date Set For Millbrae Vote

An election will be held on January 20 at Millbrae, at which time that section will decide whether or not it will become a part of Burlingame. The election was called by the city council of Burlingame following the presentation of petitions containing the names of 172 residents of Millbrae Villa and Millbrae Heights.

CRAVES SUN

Some want the moon, but Dr. Arnold B. Hall, president of University of Oregon, wants only a little sunshine at Waikiki beach. Dr. Hall is now en route to Hawaii on the Dollar liner President McKinley. He will divide a lengthy vacation between sunbathing and renewing acquaintances with his old friend, Dr. Graham Stuart, president of the University of Hawaii.

'He's Innocent'

Says Esther Ralston, film beauty, fondling the tame skunk that appeared with her in a recent movie, and which, incidentally, took such a liking to Esther that she decided to keep him for a pet.

(UP).—Experts of marine life have confessed unable to classify the extraordinary specimen recently tossed upon the beach here. The "fish" is covered with silver scales and has a tail shaped like a crescent. Lateral and dorsal fins are large and tinted with violet. Its snout is flattened and on its back are eight brilliantly colored scarlet bumps.

MENLO PARK

The Church of the Nativity will observe the feast of Christmas by the celebration of three masses, one at midnight and the others at 8 and 10:00 o'clock. An augmented choir will sing the mass at midnight. Trinity Episcopal church and the Presbyterian church will hold special services on Christmas morning. Special choirs are to render music for the occasion.

Mrs. Buelna, one of the oldest pioneers of this section, is very ill at her home on San Antonio avenue. Owing to her advanced age and infirmities much alarm is entertained for her recovery.

Sacred Heart Academy will close tomorrow for the Christmas vacation. Menlo Junior College and St. Patrick's seminary closed during the first of the week. The grammar school and St. Joseph's Parochial school declared vacation on Monday. Nearly all the educational institutions in the community will resume studies on January 6.

James Bogie, after a lingering illness, pased away at his home on Oak Grove avenue Wednesday. For some time he had suffered a complication of diseases. Mr. Bogie was a native of Scotland, aged 67. He came to Menlo Park in 1905 and was for some years employed at the Stanford estate as a gardener. For eighteen years he was the gardener for the late Mrs. Winchester, whose husband invented the Winchester rifle, at her estate at Atherton. The funeral will take place from his late residence at 2 o'clock today. Interment is to be in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Mr. Bogie loved flowers and was never so happy as when mingling with them, particularly with the blooms of his own creation. Mr. Bogie was liked by his neighbors and loved by the community generally. He is survived by his widow and two brothers residing in Contra Costa county.

The many friends of Mrs. Harry Morey, Sr., will be pained to learn that she is quite ill at her home at Atherton.

Mrs. Annie L. Green Wobber, who died on December 8, was born March 29, 1863, in Monroe county, Indian Creek, Mo., and was married to E. D. Webber on September 14, 1880. To this union 13 children were born. Surviving her are eleven children and her aged husband. The remains were shipped to her old home town for interment.

The party of bear hunters who left last Friday for Mount Lassen to shoot bear, returned Tuesday after having a delightful time in the snow of the mountain. The bears are hibernating. In fact the bears heard of the coming of the mighty hunters from Menlo Park and at once sought safety in the caves of the hills, where they began their long winter sleep. While the hunters failed in securing any big game they had a happy time, trudging through the snow and in seeing deer tripping along the trails unconcerned at the approach of the hunters. The party was composed of Mayor Weeden, K. L. Martin, Professor McAffee, Frank Morey Zip Hara and Archy Feeley.

Next Monday Miss Catherine Aylward, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aylward of this city, will graduate from St Joseph's Hospital as a professional nurse, after serving two years and a half at the well-known institution. The young lady will probably practice her profession in San Francisco where she is well known and liked. Miss Aylward is a very beautiful and talented young lady who is certain to meet with success in her chosen profession.

Miss Marian Metcalf, the winsome and talented young daughter of Fred Metcalf of this city, is here from Los Angeles on a visit with her father. Miss Metcalf holds a position of trust in the southern city where she has a host of friends.

A petition is being circulated among the taxpayers of Pine street to be presented to the city council asking that the street be improved after the manner of Hoover street. A majority of the taxpayers have signed the petition. Work will begin next spring. At the same time curbs and sidewalks will be laid from the Carleton property to the O'Kane holdings on the south side of Oak Grove avenue. The contemplated improvements are needed. They will be a big benefit to that part of the city.

Thomas Aylward returned last week from a cruise to New York and intervening ports. He was gone three months. He expects soon to sail for Australia.

Mrs. Marshal Madsen returned from New York last Monday, where she went some weeks ago accompanied by her husband, the noted lawyer who won a big case in New York city before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Eyre returned from New York last week, where they went to attend the wedding of Miss Emma Flood and Mr. Stebbin. The pretty and talented bride with her husband spent a portion of the honeymoon in California but returned to New York where the young couple will make their home, and where the bride's mother is temporarily living. Miss Flood was very popular with the people of Menlo Park, who knew and loved her, for her gentle and charming ways and sweetness of her character. They regret that she must live far away in New York. However, the young lady carries with her to her new home the very best wishes of those who knew her in her girlhood here.

Roland Midgley, the widely known electrician and prominent Native Son, is contemplating erecting two duplex houses in Stanford Park. The young man sees a great future for that section of the city, then, too, he may be contemplating marriage. Quein sabe?

Ralph Soper, a former Menlo Park boy, has made good in New York. Many years ago his father, Edgar Soper, was the station agent here. He moved to Palo Alto as the first Wells Fargo agent in that place and in due time Ralph went to Stanford and graduated with honors as a geologist. Seeking employment with the Standard Oil Company he soon forged ahead until he is now the European representative of his company with offices in New York. Soper receives a salary of $25,000 a year. His father still lives in Palo Alto. He is a nephew of Frank Kirkpatrick of this city.

The Menlo Park Sanitary district trustees will meet on Monday next to receive the petition of residents living west of Park Lane who wish to annex that territory to the sanitary district for the purpose of establishing a sewer system. Among the petitioners are Mr. Rosenfield, Mr. Dunphy and Mr. Howell and others.

The resignation of Judge Hoss as city judge, is in the hands of the city council who are loath to accept it. Mr. Hoss has made and honest judge and the council knowing this hesitate to accept the resignation. It is said Mr. Montell of Stanford Park may receive the appointment in the event that a vacancy is created.

Reaching the eightieth mile stone of her life Mrs. Margaret Hand, a pioneer woman of this section, passed away on Wednesday following an illness of ten days.

The deceased was born in Ireland but came to this country in her girlhood and in the seventies came to reside in Menlo Park with her husband, the late James Hand. He was the confidential employe of the late Charles N. Felton, then sub-treasurer of San Francisco and in the heyday of his financial success, Mrs. Hand bought a parcel of property on the Felton estate on Encinal ave. at an early date and some time later sold it to Charles Merrill for a large sum. She some time after erected a palatial home on the corner of Glenwood avenue and Mills avenue in which she spent the remaining years of her happy life. The death of her two sons, James and William Hand some years ago was a severe shock to her but with true Christian fortitude she bore her cross bravely to the end knowing that with the end her body would be out of pain her soul out of prison and that she would join her loved ones in the heavenly kingdom to be with them always, to part no more. Mrs. Hand during her long residence in Menlo Park made many friends who loved her for her excellent qualities of mind and heart. She is survived by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hand and a grand daughter, Miss Margaret Hand, who is a senior at Sequoia high school. The funeral will take place from the Tinney funeral parlors at Palo Alto today at 9 o'clock, thence to the church of the Nativity where a requiem mass will be celebrated at 9:30. Interment in Holy Cross cemetery Menlo Park.
